5. ACTIVITIES – DOPING CASES

- There has been only one Adverse Analytical Finding ("AAF") in 2022 even though the level of testing has, I understand remained more or less the same. It was at the World Championship. The details are as follows:

Name	Country	Nature: JJIF ADR- Prohibited Substance	Date (Sample Collection)	Ineligibility	Start	Expiry
Yesmurat MAKSAT	KAZ	JJIF ADR Art 2.1 & 2.2 Specified: Furosemide	01-Nov-22	3.5 years (minor)	29-Apr-22	29-Oct-26

5/13/2024

mail@jjif.org

22

5. ACTIVITIES – DOPING CASES

2. There has also been a case of Atypical Finding (“ATF”) regarding a Mexican athlete. This is still being investigated. Most probably this is a case of meat contamination as this is common in Mexico, which would therefore not be an AAF.
3. Statistically, this is good news for 2022 with only 1 case compared to 2021 where there were 7 cases. It does tend to show the efficacy of the JJIF anti-doping programme in combating anti-doping. Let’s hope that for this year 2023, there will be a nil return.
4. There is one 2021 AAF pending case which is taking time to dispose of as there will finally be a hearing of this matter at the request of the athlete and same should be heard before a Hearing Panel quite soon. The details cannot be disclosed for the time being by reason of duty of confidentiality in accordance with the JJIF ADR rules.

5/13/2024

5. ACTIVITIES – WADA COMPLIANCE

JJIF is currently under review as regards compliance. Most of it has been completed and signed off by WADA. One big aspect remains to be attended to and that is Education. JJIF is late on this aspect. WADA has granted an extension to address same and JJIF is considering the options to put in place to address this matter.

INTRODUCTION

This is the Corrective Action Report (CAR) following the Code Compliance Questionnaire (CCQ) completed by your organization.

WADA reviewed your organization's CCQ against the requirements of the World Anti-Doping Code (Code) and the International Standards (IS). As a result, the objective of the CAR is to provide clear and helpful corrective actions to address the non-conformities identified. Where possible, WADA has included links to relevant documents and resources to assist you in addressing the areas identified.

The CAR categorizes the findings as either 'Critical', 'High Priority' or 'General'.

Critical findings are of the highest importance in terms of their implementation and are mandatory, core requirements of the Code and IS. Your organization has three months from the date of this CAR being issued to implement the relevant corrective actions in these program areas, procedures or processes. High Priority findings represent the next level of priority, and your organization has six months to implement these corrective actions. General findings represent the final level of priority, and your organization has nine months to implement these corrective actions. The specific deadlines are outlined above.

The CAR also includes a Best Practice Recommendation section. These recommendations do not have a timeframe for implementation.

Throughout the implementation of the corrective actions, please upload all relevant documents in the CCC so that all information, feedback, and guidance is centralized.

Subject: Reveiw Financial Report for the Year 2022

Dear Mr. Panagiotis Theodoropoulos JJIF president, JJIF Vice presidents, JJIF board members, Director General, Mr. Joachim Thumfart, presidents of the Continental Unions, members of the JJIRC and members of the member federations,

With reference to the last JJIF session, I was appointed as one of the auditors for reviewing the financial reporting prepared by the Accounting Committee and the accounting of book-keeping for the year 2022.

Based on the financials shared along with the supporting documents received from the accounting I have conducted a sample-based review and analytical procedures and queries with the member of the Accounting Committee. Except for fact that payments are processed with a single authorized signatory whereby dual authorization is recommended for a better control, nothing came to my attention to conclude that the financials of any irregular activity/reporting in the information provided for review.

ADDING GI COLOR BLACK

WHY?

SOME EXAMPLES

There are changes in the mindset of sports communities

BBCSport

New England kit for Women's World Cup has blue shorts because of period concerns

Example: Soccer in Great Britain

From the section Women's Football

SOME EXAMPLES

- Example: Tennis in Wimbledon

Wimbledon 2022: Periods, tennis and the tradition of whites at SW19

By Amy Lofthouse BBC Sport

June 2022. From the section Tennis Tennis whites have become synonymous with Wimbledon

When former Olympic tennis champion Monica Puig wrote about the "mental stress" of wearing white at Wimbledon while on your period, the replies were illuminating.

→ Wimbledon will allow dark undershorts due to female players' period concerns

- Tournament makes exception to strict all-white dress code
- 'It is our hope this will help players focus purely on performance'

HIDDEN IN SOCIETY

Also in our Ju Jitsu community this is a problem for athletes!

→ What are the dimensions of this issue?

STARTING A SURVEY

A survey started on 6th of April 2023 and was closed one month later.

It was spread via networking and Social Media

SURVEY SUMMARY

This survey provides plenty of data for further decisions.

It is remarkable that an anonymous survey gives insights in problems that our society was not aware of.

Stains are obviously a bigger problem for our actively competing community than previously thought.

Certain problems are only discussed in safe spaces - even not mentioned with (male) coaches or other people.

That's why these problems are not recognized in public.

→ Changes must be made!

WHY IS IT A PROBLEM?

- The fear of getting blood on your gi during a competition is always on your mind, which is stressful for athletes.
- Often the time between two fights is too short.
Sometimes the way to the toilet is long, as we have seen recently in Abu Dhabi and Verquin. After a fight there is a way full of securities so you can't take no shortcut, change belts & saftey gear, drink, breath, focus on the next opponent leaving time for nothing else like chaning gis and menstrual products.
- There are cultures in which women on their period are considered unclean and therefore have a hard time.
- Women's sanitary needs are very different from men's.
Using menstrual products does not ensure a stain-free gi.

PROPOSAL

Adding the gi color black

So athletes can choose whether they want to fight in a completely white or black gi

PROPOSAL – SPORTING CODE

Sporting Code, 4.1 Competition Dressing and Personal Requirements:

Old text: The competitors shall wear a good quality white Ju-Jitsu Gi (as specified in Figure 1 ), which must be clean and in good order.

→ New text: The competitors shall wear a good quality complete white or black Ju-Jitsu Gi (as specified in Figure 1 ), which must be clean and in good order.

MORE SPECIFICALLY

Not only a black trouser

We don't want to mark anyone.

Not only women

It should be an equal choice for men and women.

Not using gi color to separate fighters of a match,

because that would not solve any of the mentioned problems,
that would cause problems.

Not blue

We don't want to be Judo.

Not any other color

We want to give a solution to a problem, but stay a sport with a good overall picture for the audience, the referees, TV, Streaming, Social Media, Photos

Our federation can show that problems of female athletes are taken seriously!

Showing that not only big sports like tennis and football care for their female community.
